Move Me No Mountain is a suspenseful drama set in modern day Las Vegas.

Starring Cathrine Lellie (Dopesick, Evening Hour) as Jenna Anderson, a real estate agent who walks away from everything in an attempt to punish herself for the sins of her past.

Shot on location in Las Vegas, no movie has ever shown Sin City like this, from the tunnels under the strip, to the high-rises, suburbs and surrounding desert.

The filmmakers hope to raise awareness about the realities of modern urban homelessness in America today.
